

This Marauder is an excellent mathematician! This student regularly arrives to class prepared to learn and ready to participate in class discussions by offering answers and asking questions when clarification is needed. They advocate for their own learning because it is obvious this student wants to understand the material. You can often find other students in math class gathering around this student who is willing to work with others to offer suggestions and help those who learn best from their peers. This student is a kind and quiet soul who does not need to be in the spotlight but will complete their assignments and make sure that the work is done correctly and understood. This student has demonstrated that she strives for success for her and others. She has a high aptitude for making a difference where it needs to be, grit for achieving the fullest potential of self and others and a very open mind for growth. She is very delightful, respectful, helpful and has intrinsic motivation to learn and contribute to her school community and beyond.

The Math Department is happy to announce sophomore, Alyssa Barnacascel as this month's Marauder of the Month. Congratulations Alyssa!!
