THE NEWS

The weather is getting colder! Be sure to dress appropriately for the outdoor classrooms every day. Layers work best. Change of clothes and shoes also recommended.

Health & Wellness

With shifting routines we can overlook the value of GRATITUDE. It can help you and your family by remembering to take a moment to share what you are thankful for, right here, right now. It won't change the situation, but it can help you to appreciate what is here. This will help you deal with adversity, feel happier, and positively impact your relationships. I am grateful for the diverse perspectives we all bring to one another. I am thankful for my ears that hear you and for my mind and heart that want to understand you better.- Ms. Carly
